The website of FilmMoment uses a Google Analytics-cookie to gain insights into how our website is used. Based on that knowledge, we can improve our website and align our other digital communication channels. We have signed a Data Processing Amendment with Google (as asked by the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens). On top of that, we have made sure that all IP-addresses are masked before they are processed. All the data we gather is anonymous and none of it is shared with Google, Google services or any other parties.
